

500kV Proximity Voltage Detector

HD Electric Company's NEW PRX-500 Proximity Voltage Detector is a new addition to our voltage detector product line. With nine selectable voltage ranges from 120V up to 500kV, the PRX Proximity Voltage Detector features an easy-to-use electronic touch pad with large buttons. The PRX provides an audible and visual indication of voltage detected from elbow test points up to the highest transmission voltages. The rechargeable internal battery can be quickly charged from your truck or a wall outlet. For more information on the PRX Proximity Voltage Detector, please visit our website and type PRX in the search bar - www.HDElectricCompany.com.
