

HD Electric Company Proximity Voltage Detectors

HDE's PRX Proximity Voltage Detectors are non-contact detectors with voltage ranges from 120V up to 500kV. When voltage is detected, the PRX gives an audible and visual indication with a typical detection distance of 10 inches. The PRX has the ability to detect voltage on most elbow test points at the 120V setting. With a rechargeable internal battery, the PRX can be charged quickly from 12VDC automotive outlets or from 115-240VAC.

There are models available to detect voltages from elbow test points at the 120V setting up to 500kV transmission voltages:

- PRX-500 - 9 range settings from 120V to 500kV
- PRX-69D - 7 range settings from 120V to 69kV
- Custom models are available, the PRX-4 was created with 2 range settings from 50V to 4kV
