

Important Notice About HD Electric Company’s Rite-Lite Product Line

April 29, 2015

Due to the inability to procure critical components which are essential to the continuation of the HD Electric Company Rite-Lite® Hard Hat Light product line, we are forced to cease manufacturing and supplying this product line when inventory is depleted. This notice applies to the Rite-Lite Hard Hat Light model 78790 (pictured on the left, below).

We currently have a limited and declining supply of components and urge you to place Last of Life (LOL) purchase orders immediately while supplies last. We plan to fulfill orders on a first in / first out basis. We anticipate exhausting existing inventories by or before the end of 2015.

Be assured we have conducted best efforts trying to source replacement components from our global supply chain and all other sources we are aware of. An alternative product would be one of our Cyclops® Hard Hat Safety Lights (pictured on the right, below). More information can be found on our website – HDElectricCompany.com.

Should you have any further questions, please contact us at 847-473-4980 or send an email to sales@hde.textron.com.

In closing, thank you very much for your valued business of our Rite-Lite Hard Hat Light product line.

Sincerely,
HD Electric Company
